With three decades of experience in the software industry, Dr M Arumugam has an M.Tech from Indian Institute of Technology, MBA and has Ph.Ds in Supply chain management and Artificial Intelligence and has served as an Adjunct Professor of Supply Chain, at Massachusetts Institute of Technology-Zaragoza Logistics Centre, Zaragoza, Spain, till 2008. Currently, he is a Professor of Technology at Plymouth University, UK. He has been instrumental in spearheading and carrying out several state and union government IT initiatives for e-governance, especially those centred on the health, defence, education, public sector, and power industries. He has pioneered the drug logistics management model for the state of Tamil Nadu, which has won him acclaim from the World Bank, WHO, and other leading international agencies. This model has been replicated across India and worldwide. He also won the prestigious Prime Ministers' e-governance award for successful innovation in the year 2000. He provides consultancy to various organizations both national and international, in health, logistics and SCM, power, and education. He is the founder of Broadline Group of Companies, which includes Broadline computer systems, and Broadline Technologies Private Limited, a premier player in IT services. A session with Dr M Arumugam will imbibe in students the will to pursue excellence in all their endeavours.
