GOALS

A student being the leader of tomorrow has an effective role to play in the electoral process. The future depends on how an individual contributes and presents ideas to the development of a society for the welfare and betterment of the community. To mould the corrupted scenario to a better place to live in, the student as an educated and literate human being can stand forth to bring a change in one's own society.

A student with his/her knowledge and wisdom can take part in the role of the election process having counseling within the peer groups and their parents, siblings and their loved ones and insist on how important election is, and how worth it is. They can also emphasize that if we take a correct step by choosing a right leader, it can bring a great difference in the society. The role of the people in the developmental process, in educational development, medical facilities and many more can be balanced if the electoral process is considered a serious matter. It will enlighten many hardships that the people are facing especially in the countryside.

Money should not be the deciding factor in the electoral process. The students can take part in the voting process by educating the masses to look into the future and work accordingly and not to fall prey to the evil 'Money'. The electoral process is a great platform where one can bring a big change for the better tomorrow. The future depends on us as an educated student to take lead in the right path. The future depends on what we contribute now as it is "Now or Never".
