MOSQUITO DAY MODEL - REPORT

OBJECTIVES.

The goal of this event is to create an awareness about the significance of Mosquito and its pathology among the students in our home college and other Institutions.

OUTCOMES

Mosquitoes are unquestionably the most medically important arthropod vectors of disease. The maintenance and transmission of the pathogens that cause malaria, lymphatic filariasis, and numerous viral infections are absolutely dependent on the availability of competent mosquito vectors. PG Department of Zoology, M.V.Muthiah Government Arts College For Women, Dindigul organized an online awareness quiz program in commemoration of mosquito day on to understand its vector role and incidence of diseases. A total of 112 students involved actively participated with earnest participation. E certificates were issued to all participants.

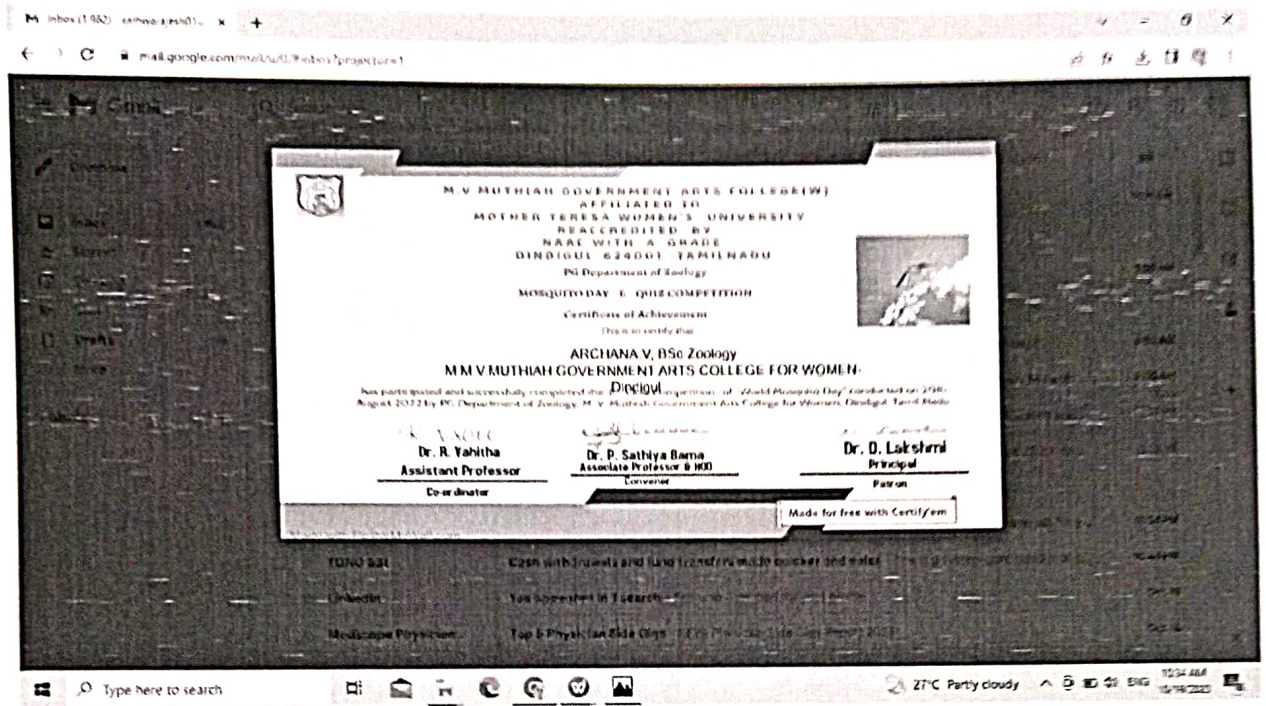

Mosquito-control operations are targeted against three different problems:

1. Nuisance mosquitoes bother people around homes or in parks and recreational areas;
2. Economically important mosquitoes reduce real estate values, adversely affect tourism and related business interests, or negatively impact livestock or poultry production;
3. Public health is the focus when mosquitoes are vectors, or transmitters, of infectious disease.
